Permaculture Design Course

Jan - Dec 2009
Otaki Horowhenua

Tutors: Gary and Emily Williams

How to live the good life with the future of the planet in mind. Permaculture is an ethically based way of life guided by principles and strategies that apply to all circumstances. It is about obtaining our needs (for air, water, food, shelter and energy) in a way that maintains the creativity, productivity and resilience of the natural world, through an understanding of our environment and our place in the world. It is about an efficient and effective use and recycling of resources, and a fair sharing within cooperative and supportive communities.

The design skills and techniques of permaculture are taught through weekend workshops over 9 months.

They include gardening, orchards, forestry, water harvesting, climate, technology, hazard mitigation, building, community living and the economy.

Fees: $40 60 per day (sliding scale self-selected on affordability). Supported by ACE

funding through Horowhenua College

Get a full list of the courses & plan your year:
Phone (06) 3626684, or gary@waterscape.co.nz
(And watch this space for courses throughout the year)

Courses

1. Philosophy & Design (31 Jan 2009)

This course introduces the ethics and principles of permaculture, and you will learn about its applications and methods of design.

2. Landscape & Site Assessment (1 Feb 2009)

We will look at the landscape and show you how to read the natural patterns, landforms and features of your site.

Cob Building Workshop

Pigeon Saddle, Golden Bay

10 - 14 Feb 2009

This five day workshop will provide participants with in depth knowledge of the design and construction of cob buildings and a good amount of hands on practical experience to give them the techniques and confidence to build their own cob building. Approximately half of the workshop will be on site and soil evaluation and design and half will be building a small cob building.

Topics will include:

Evaluation of Soils
Site Selection and Evaluation
Passive Solar Energy Design
Structural Design
Weather Protection
Cob Construction
Building Consent Requirements
NZ Earth building Standards Construction Details

Some cob buildings in the Nelson and Golden Bay areas will be visited during the workshop.

WHEN AND WHERE: 9.00am to 5.30pm, Tuesday to Saturday, 10 to 14 February 2009 at Pigeon Saddle between Wainui and Totaranui in Golden Bay.

WORKSHOP CO-ORDINATORS: Bella and Richard Walker built an earth house in Nelson in 1987 and are presently building a new earth house at Pigeon Saddle and are designers of earth buildings. They have held many earth building workshops in the past 20 years. Richard is a consulting professional engineer and prepared the draft for the new New Zealand Standard for Earth buildings not Requiring Specific Design.

WORKSHOP FEE: $450.00 per person for the five days. $30 discount provided for fees paid before 1st February 2009

Lunch and hot and cold drinks provided.

If you are from outside the Golden Bay area we can suggest accommodation options. Please bring literature, photos and slides on earth buildings to share with other participants.

Please make registration fees payable to Richard and Amabel Walker.
